STATE OF NEW YORK

416

2021-2022 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

(Prefiled)

January 6, 2021

Introduced by M. of A. PERRY -- read once and referred to the Committee on Health

AN ACT to amend the public health law, in relation to the removal of cases, contacts and carriers of communicable diseases who are potentially dangerous to the public health

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

| 1 | Section 1. The public health law is amended by adding a new section |
|----|---|
| 2 | 2120-a to read as follows: |
| 3 | § 2120-a. Removal and detention of cases, contacts and carriers who |
| 4 | are or may be a danger to public health; other orders. 1. The provisions |
| 5 | of this section shall be utilized in the event that the governor |
| б | declares a state of health emergency due to an epidemic of any communi- |
| 7 | cable disease. |
| 8 | 2. Upon determining by clear and convincing evidence that the health |
| 9 | of others is or may be endangered by a case, contact or carrier, or |
| 10 | suspected case, contact or carrier of a contagious disease that, in the |
| 11 | opinion of the governor, after consultation with the commissioner, may |
| 12 | pose an imminent and significant threat to the public health resulting |
| 13 | in severe morbidity or high mortality, the governor or his or her dele- |
| 14 | gee, including, but not limited to the commissioner or the heads of |
| 15 | local health departments, may order the removal and/or detention of such |
| 16 | a person or of a group of such persons by issuing a single order, iden- |
| 17 | tifying such persons either by name or by a reasonably specific |
| 18 | description of the individuals or group being detained. Such person or |
| 19 | group of persons shall be detained in a medical facility or other appro- |
| 20 | priate facility or premises designated by the governor or his or her |
| 21 | delegee and complying with subdivision five of this section. |
| 22 | 3. A person or group removed or detained by order of the governor or |
| 23 | his or her delegee pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be |
| | |

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

LBD04443-01-1

A. 416

detained for such period and in such manner as the department may direct 1 2 in accordance with this section. 4. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of this section: 3 4 (a) A confirmed case or a carrier who is detained pursuant to subdivi-5 sion two of this section shall not continue to be detained after the б department determines that such person is no longer contagious. 7 (b) A suspected case or suspected carrier who is detained pursuant to 8 subdivision two of this section shall not continue to be detained after 9 the department determines, with the exercise of due diligence, that such 10 person is not infected with or has not been exposed to such a disease, 11 or if infected with or exposed to such a disease, no longer is or will 12 become contagious. 13 (c) A person who is detained pursuant to subdivision two of this 14 section as a contact of a confirmed case or a carrier shall not continue to be detained after the department determines that the person is not 15 infected with the disease or that such contact no longer presents a 16 17 potential danger to the health of others. (d) A person who is detained pursuant to subdivision two of this 18 section as a contact of a suspected case shall not continue to be 19 20 detained: 21 (i) after the department determines, with the exercise of due dili-22 gence, that the suspected case was not infected with such a disease, or was not contagious at the time the contact was exposed to such individ-23 24 ual; or 25 (ii) after the department determines that the contact no longer 26 presents a potential danger to the health of others. 27 5. A person who is detained pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall, as is appropriate to the circumstances: 28 29 (a) have his or her medical condition and needs assessed and addressed 30 on a regular basis, and 31 (b) be detained in a manner that is consistent with recognized 32 isolation and infection control principles in order to minimize the 33 likelihood of transmission of infection to such person and to others. 34 6. When a person or group is ordered to be detained pursuant to subdi-35 vision two of this section for a period not exceeding three business days, such person or member of such group shall, upon request, be 36 37 afforded an opportunity to be heard. If a person or group detained 38 pursuant to subdivision two of this section needs to be detained beyond 39 three business days, they shall be provided with an additional commis-40 sioner's order pursuant to subdivisions two and eight of this section. 41 7. When a person or group is ordered to be detained pursuant to subdi-42 vision two of this section for a period exceeding three business days, 43 and such person or member of such group requests release, the governor 44 or his or her delegee shall make an application for a court order 45 authorizing such detention within three business days after such request 46 by the end of the first business day following such Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, which application shall include a request for an expe-47 dited hearing. After any such request for release, detention shall not 48 49 continue for more than five business days in the absence of a court order authorizing detention. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, 50 51 in no event shall any person be detained for more than sixty days without a court order authorizing such detention. The governor or his or her 52 53 delegee shall seek further court review of such detention within ninety 54 days following the initial court order authorizing detention and thereafter within ninety days of each subsequent court review. In any court 55 56 proceeding to enforce an order of the governor or his or her delegee for

A. 416

| 1 the removal or detention of a person or group issued pursuant to this gubdivision or for review of the continued detention of a person or group, the governor or his or her delegee shall prove the particularized circumstances constituting the necessity for such detention by clear and convincing evidence. 8. (a) A copy of any detention order of the governor or his or her delegee issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be group of individuals and it is impractical to provide individual copies. 10 it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (iii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the order: (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were consid- ierd and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of such people that they person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of is or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, | - | |
|--|---|---|
| 3 group, the governor or his or her deleges shall prove the particularized discumstances constituting the necessity for such detention by clear and convincing evidence. 8. (a) A copy of any detention order of the governor or his or her delegee issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be given to each detained individual; however, if the order applies to a group of individuals and it is impractical to provide individual copies. 10 it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued. including the particular sections of this article or or ther law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order: (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives were relected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the divising the person or group being detained that they may a prive notification of the person's detention, and that the person's detention and that the detained. (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the detained. (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of a seried excent facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances and/or relatives to receive notification o | 1 | the removal or detention of a person or group issued pursuant to this |
| dircumstances constituting the necessity for such detention by clear and convincing evidence. 8. (a) A copy of any detention order of the governor or his or her delegee issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be given to each detained individual; however, if the order applies to a group of individuals and it is impractical to provide individual copies. it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation; (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order; (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were considiered and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent (i) a notice to a reasonable number of such people that the period secteding three business days after a request for relatives the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such addresses | | |
| 5 convincing evidence. 8. (a) A copy of any detention order of the governor or his or her delege issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be given to each detained individual; however, if the order applies to a group of individuals and it is impractical to provide individual copies. 10 it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (ii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were considered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible, provide notic the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented or legal oursel and that they the deterses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's detention or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) Andition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section for a relaxed for relaxes has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of the person or group being detained that they person for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or grou | | |
| 8. (a) Å cory of any detention order of the governor or his or her deleges issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be given to each detained individual; however, if the order applies to a group of individuals and it is impractical to provide individual copies. it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order: (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were rejected: (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent fasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person's request and to the extent fasible, provide notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's detention; and that the department shall, at the detained person or approve let the the series is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and geven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained th | | |
| 7 delegee issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be 8 given to each detained individual; however, if the order applies to a 9 group of individuals and it is impractical to provide individual copies. 10 it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any 11 detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two 12 of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which 14 the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article 15 or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the 16 detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order; (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were consid- ared and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of reasible under the circumstances; and (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's reduest and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such descention: < | | |
| 8 given to each detained individual; however, if the order applies to a group of individuals and it is impractical to provide individual copies. it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order; (iii) a description of the less restrictive alternatives that were consid- ered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives that were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days. shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further s | | |
| 9 group of individuals and it is impractical to provide individual copies. 10 it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any 11 detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two 12 of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order: (ii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives were rejected: (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention detention: (ii) advise the person or group being detained that they detention. (ii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the fight to request release from detention, the qovernor or | | |
| it may be posted in a conspicuous place in the detention premises. Any detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation; (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order; (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of subply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group being detained that the a period exceeding three business days. shall: (i) Advise the person or group being detained that. (i) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days. shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not the department shall, at the absence of a court order authorizing such detention: | | |
| detention order of the commissioner issued pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued. including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order: (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives were rejected: (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to reguest release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's detention shall of or onthis section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days after a request for relatives to release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (ii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right t | | |
| of this section shall set forth: (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order: (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives were rejected. (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detained that the detention shall (i) advise the person or group being detained that detention they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detained that, whether or no | | |
| (i) the purpose of the detention and the legal authority under which the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order: (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were considered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected: (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the period exceeding three business days after a request for relaxes has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencent of detention and therafter must further seek coursel shall be provide if and | | |
| the order is issued, including the particular sections of this article or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order: (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were consid- ered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected: (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's necuest and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (ii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such req | | |
| 15 or other law or regulation: (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order: (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives were rejected: (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor on his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, | | |
| (ii) a description of the circumstances and/or behavior of the (iii) a description of group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order; (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were consid- ered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention: (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detained that, whether or not they request release from detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court | | |
| detained person or group constituting the basis for the issuance of the order; (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, and there she detention and three y reviews of the detention within ninety days of such court order anthorizing detention within ninety days of such court order and for the person or group being detained that they have the right obtain a court order anthorizing detained that they have a period within ninety days of such court order and person or group being detained that they the right obtain a court order anthorizing detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request for counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the person or group being detained that they have the right obtain a court order anthorizing detained that they days following the comm | | |
| 18 order; (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were consid- ered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provide if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| (iii) the less restrictive alternatives that were attempted and were unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were considered and an elected, and the reasons such alternatives were relected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention: (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and | | |
| unsuccessful and/or the less restrictive alternatives that were considered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (ii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request | | |
| <pre>ered and rejected, and the reasons such alternatives were rejected; (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal coursel be provided, that upon such request coursel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel</pre> | | — |
| (iv) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made: (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal coursel be provided, that upon such request | | |
| have a right to request release from detention, and including instructions on how such request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention: (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| instructions on how such request shall be made; (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detained that, whether or not they request release from detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (ii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the | | |
| (v) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| have a right to be represented by legal counsel and that upon request of such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provide if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| <pre>such person or group access to counsel will be facilitated to the extent feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention: (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel</pre> | | |
| feasible under the circumstances; and (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| (vi) a notice advising the person or group being detained that they may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the | | |
| 30 may supply the addresses and/or telephone numbers of friends and/or 31 relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that 32 the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent 33 feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the 34 person is being detained. 35 (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and 36 seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for 37 a period exceeding three business days, shall: 39 (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall 39 not continue for more than five business days after a request for 40 release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such 41 detention; 42 (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not 43 they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee 44 must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days 45 following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek 46 court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and 47 within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and 48 (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 40 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 41 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| relatives to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (ii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request | | |
| the department shall, at the detained person's request and to the extent feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| feasible, provide notice to a reasonable number of such people that the person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention: (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request | | |
| person is being detained. (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the | | |
| (b) In addition, an order issued pursuant to subdivisions two and seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the | | |
| seven of this section, requiring the detention of a person or group for a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| a period exceeding three business days, shall: (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| (i) advise the person or group being detained that the detention shall not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the pright to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| not continue for more than five business days after a request for release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 40 release has been made in the absence of a court order authorizing such 41 detention; 42 (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not 43 they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee 44 must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days 45 following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek 46 court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and 47 within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and 48 (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| detention; (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| (ii) advise the person or group being detained that, whether or not they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the pright to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | - |
| 43 they request release from detention, the governor or his or her delegee 44 must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days 45 following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek 46 court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and 47 within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and 48 (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 44 must obtain a court order authorizing detention within sixty days 45 following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek 46 court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and 47 within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and 48 (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 45 following the commencement of detention and thereafter must further seek 46 court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and 47 within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and 48 (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 46 court review of the detention within ninety days of such court order and 47 within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and 48 (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 47 within ninety days of each subsequent court review; and 48 (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 48 (iii) advise the person or group being detained that they have the 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 49 right to request that legal counsel be provided, that upon such request 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 50 counsel shall be provided if and to the extent possible under the 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| 51 circumstances, and that if counsel is so provided, that such counsel | | |
| | | |
| | | |

53 tation.

54 9. A person who is detained in a medical facility, or other appropri-

55 ate facility or premises, shall not conduct himself or herself in a disorderly manner, and shall not leave or attempt to leave such facility 1 or premises until he or she is discharged pursuant to this section. 2 10. Where necessary and feasible under the circumstances, language 3 4 interpreters and persons skilled in communicating with vision and hear-5 ing impaired individuals shall be provided. б 11. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the issuance of 7 orders pursuant to § 11.21 of the New York City Health Code. 8 12. In addition to the removal or detention orders referred to in 9 subdivision two of this section, and without affecting or limiting any 10 other authority that the commissioner may otherwise have, the governor 11 or his or her delegee may, in his or her discretion, issue and seek enforcement of any other orders that he or she determines are necessary 12 or appropriate to prevent dissemination or transmission of contagious 13 14 diseases or other illnesses that may pose a threat to the public health including, but not limited to, orders requiring any person or persons 15 16 who are not in the custody of the department to be excluded; to remain isolated or quarantined at home or at a premises of such person's choice 17 that is acceptable to the department and under such conditions and for 18 19 such period as will prevent transmission of the contagious disease or other illness; to require the testing or medical examination of persons 20 21 who may have been exposed to or infected by a contagious disease or who may have been exposed to or contaminated with dangerous amounts of 22 radioactive materials or toxic chemicals; to require an individual who 23 has been exposed to or infected by a contagious disease to complete an 24 appropriate, prescribed course of treatment, preventive medication or 25 26 vaccination, including directly observed therapy to treat the disease 27 and follow infection control provisions for the disease; or to require an individual who has been contaminated with dangerous amounts of radio-28 29 active materials or toxic chemicals such that said individual may pres-30 ent a danger to others, to undergo decontamination procedures deemed 31 necessary by the department. Such person or persons shall, upon 32 request, be afforded an opportunity to be heard, but the provisions of 33 subdivisions two through eleven of this section shall not otherwise 34 apply. 35 13. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to permit or 36 require the forcible administration of any medication without a prior 37 court order. 38

A. 416

38 § 2. This act shall take effect on the thirtieth day after it shall 39 have become a law. Effective immediately the addition, amendment and/or 40 repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of 41 this act on its effective date are authorized to be made and completed 42 on or before such date.